My best of friends. this is so familiar. we try to Pretend. nothing's wrong. this crutch that we both lean
On. tell me that it's fine and dandy. but she said Improbable. we're stop and go. we're high and low. and Moving slow. just say you'll keep running back to me.
Improbable she said. my funny friend. this feels so Peculiar. the worst ground to defend. we're standing on.

These word games you play on me. our language failed us Both completely. then you said impossible. it's what we Know. it's to and fro. and moving slow. just say you'll Keep hanging in with me. improbable she said. my closest Friend. looking like the weight of the world. is on your Shoulders in my room. where you suffer. there's no upside Now. I know you suffer. there's no upside now. I know you Suffer. there's no upside. but there's still something Left for me. but there's something left for me. I know There's something left for me. I know there's something.

Something
