Between two shores
My spirit soars
Between two shores
I will always be

Ever since I was a child
They didn't like me running wild
They had their plans set in stone
I had to get out on my own

Between two shores
My spirit soars
Between two shores
I will always be

When the winter rains came down
I nearly turned my head around
I was counting every day
But I knew I had to stay

Between two shores
My spirit soars
Between two shores
I will always be
