Tonight I cried again like the first time
And I know it's not my last
Hiding from the fear of the future
And the pictures of my past
Now it's time to throw away
The things you left behind
I guess I'm moving on

For every step I take I'm losing ground
But it's farther away from you
You always know how to break me
With the little things you do
But I don't want to have to show for you to hear me out
Now I'm moving on

What's the matter with you?
You picked a fine date while I'm away
All the nights, all the fights
In the back of your Chevrolet
Somehow I always knew that we'd end up this way
We can't go on pretending now I don't know why
It's so hard to say goodbye

It's always hard to find the meaning
Of the words go unsaid
You left me with a naked hunger
That will never, no never, be fed
You know I can't chatter about, it's already dead
I'm already gone

What's the matter with you?
You picked a fine date while I'm away
All the nights, all the fights
In the back of your Chevrolet
Somehow I always knew that we'd end up this way
We can't go on pretending now I don't know why
It's so hard to say goodbye

You're never going to be my anything
So get over it now, 'cause you're the one to blame
You're never going to be the light to lead the way
Taking that yesterday

What's the matter with you?
You're going to pick a fine date while I'm away
All the nights, all the fights
In the back of your Chevrolet
Somehow I always knew that we'd end up this way
We can't go on pretending now I don't know why
We can't go on pretending now I don't know why
We can't go on pretending now I don't know why
We can't go on pretending now I don't know why
It's so hard to say goodbye
