Build a life,
In what you witness.
Following the lines,
And drawing from all sides.
And when the dark
Is drawing in at you,
I know you'll be fine -
It's just absence of light.
And howcome sometimes
Hung the patient
Settle out of it?
A catalytic drift takes you from now on nowhere.

Build a life,
And what you witness
Following the lines.
And drawing from all sides.
And when the dark
Is drawing in at you
I know you'll be fine -
It's just absence of light.

Takes you from now on, nowhere.
New life in what you're hiding
It survives, you are arriving now.

Now you keep on.
Is it the time?

And when the dark is drawing in at you
I know you'll be fine -
It's just absence of light
Takes you from now on nowhere.

Build a life
In what you witness
Following the lines
And drawing from all sides
And when the dark is drawing in at you
I know you'll be fine -
It's just absence of light.
