One

Oh god a shooting star
Make up a wish before we're falling apart
Pictures in your head, could you go back in your mind
The story is told and we can't go back in time

Two

Another wish in my head
Do you wish for the same
What are you thinking instead?
All I know for sure is  $\hat{A}$ - we can never go back
All I know for sure is  $\hat{A}$ - we can never go back

It's the dress you wear (you look good tonight)
It's the boys you kiss (does it feel alright?)
How you tie your hair (let me touch these curls)
It is who you miss (don't you know it hurts?)
It's the less you wear (you look good tonight)
It's the boys you kiss (does it feel alright?)
How you tie your hair (let me touch these curls)
It is who you miss (don't you know it hurts?)
We count one, two, three, four shooting stars

Chorus

Boy, get used to feel regret
It's what you wish instead
And faraday was right when he said you need a constant

Three

Why are you taking my hand?
Did you forget that it was me to pretend?
All I really know  $\hat{A}$ - I need to see you again
All I really want is to see you again

Four

I want you back in my heart
My last wish before we're falling apart
I don't put my trust in a shooting star
No I don't put my trust in a shooting star

It's the way you dance (to my favorite song)
It's the way you sing (I never felt so wrong)
How you touch my hands (when we say good bye)
It's the storm you bring (right into my life)

We count one, two, three, four shooting stars

Chorus 2x
