There is a crimson stream
That washes white as snow
A love that longs to know me as Your own
This hope, the Light of Life
This grace that won't let go
This fire that burns can change a heart of stone

Nothing can stop this love from reaching me
Nothing can keep Your blood from cleansing me
Nothing can change Your mercies, new each day
Oh I believe in You
My Jesus I will give my heart to You

No shame can keep me bound
No sin can own the keys
The price was paid in full to set me free
No more these filthy rags
I'm clothed in purity
My Saviour's righteousness is mine to keep
