With your love I was complete
Like a haven safe from harm
Till the bitter stole the sweet
I was perfect in your arms

A precious while
I had your smile
Till it all fell apart
With one change of heart

The pain and regret will fade
But a fact of love will still remain
You can't always trust happiness

Love like a sweet parade
Till the saddest part when the music fades
You can't always trust happiness

If a single star I see
Ever made a wish come true
It would bring you back to me
But the best my heart can do

Is to love again
I don't know when
Still it's worth all I fear
The heartaches and the tears

Love like a lesson learned
When we pass the point of no return
You can't always trust happiness

There in love's steady glow
Hides the power to hurt us so
You can't always trust happiness
