I wanna run away, don't come out lookin' 'round, too busy dealin' with it on my own, he's right behind me please god I can't be found don't cast another stone. feel like I'm lyin until the sunrise, this city tells me not to go till dawn. and if he waits, that's when my heart breaks and I'm as good as gone. how do I lie awake now when I know I've got to be movin' on, how do I lie awake now when nothings right and nothings wrong.

And in the end, will we make amends, just like we're face to face another dawn. and in the night or when the moon shines, will you take me on home. how do I lie awake now when I know I've got to be movin on, how do I lie awake now when nothings right and nothings wrong. how do I lie awake now when I know I've got to be movin on how do I lie awake now, when nothings right, and nothings wrong, how do I lie awake now when I know I've got to be movin on, how do I lie awake now when nothings right, and nothings wrong.
