Sad songs and tear drops
Will surely mend this broken heart
Time forgets these bitter things I feel

But your days are numbered
You'll learn your lesson well
When you finally play a heart that plays for real

There's a new fool somewhere waiting
For your old fashioned heartbreak love affair
She'll see through your intentions
With each lie that you tell
And the old ways will go out with the new somewhere

Leaving was so easy
But old hands do make fancy moves
And I for one fell victim to your game

But someday you'll see
That cold hearts can be broken too
What goes round must come around your way

There's a new fool somewhere waiting
For your old fashioned heartbreak love affair
She'll see through your intentions
With each lie that you tell
And the old ways will go out with the new somewhere
