i don't want your blessing i don't want your taste i make a confession:
i no longer know my place

i don't want your respect i don't want your war i don't want your heroin
???

of all the things that you supply
if you can't get me now

i don't want never

can i have your blessing to dislike your face
i make my confession:
i hear your voice, i hit erase of all the things that she brings of all the things that you supply

if you can't get me now
