I should've walked out when I had the chance
And even with my doubts I still took that chance
And now I'm wondering why
I wasted all this time

But when you looked at me it felt so right
It's taking all of me to forget that night
But it's over and done with I've said my goodbyes

And what would you say?
If I told you the truth that you were nothing but a mistake
And what could you do?
When I'm trying my best just to stay far away from you

And o it's just my luck to end up with this
I always seem to run into loads of mess
And this is kind of sad
O but please don't feel bad

Cause when I looked at you
Into your eyes
I didn't see the truth I just saw lies
But it's over and done with I've said my goodbyes

And what would you say?
If I told you the truth that you were nothing but a
mistake
And what could you do?
When I'm trying my best just to stay far away from you

And would you do it again?
O no you messed up big time
And would you do it again?
O
O no
I should've known better
But I kept runnin around making the same mistakes
I should've known better
O well

I should've known better
But I kept runnin around making the same mistakes
I should've known better
O well

And what would you say?
If I told you the truth that you were nothing but a
And what could you do?
When I'm trying my best just to stay far away from you
