I need a new town
Burned bridges with rumors I didn't spread
It's time to buckle down, turn around, make it loud, say it proud
I could write a book with things I never said

Forgive me this
Give me proof
Who do you believe to be fiction or truth

I've lost too many friends
Meanings never justified in the end
Light it up sing one for the new year
Next time we will
Hope to God that all will be well
This time around I'm not going through hell
Light it up sing one for the new year
Next time we will

Rock it out, let it out, sing it loud, say it proud
Let me at it, let me have it, let me show you how
A never ending story can be found
When your reliable source, has a reliable mouth
Would you believe me if I told you that
I've only ever spread the truth and fact
Say sorry then when you find out
Your reliable source, an unreliable mouth

I'm tired of settling
For anything less than what I need
Weren't you the one who told me to chase my dreams
But you're about as subtle as the brand new me
I won't stop for anyone, can't you see
How do you sleep with the hole in your story
You're about as subtle as the brand new me

I've lost too many friends
Meanings never justified in the end
Light it up sing one for the new year
Next time we will
Hope to God that all will be well
This time around I'm not going through hell

Light it up sing one for the new year
Next time we will

Light it up sing one for the new year
Light it up sing one for the new year
Light it up sing one for the new year

Rock it out, let it out, sing it loud, make it proud
Let me at it, let me have it, let me show you how
A never ending story can be found
When your reliable source, has a reliable mouth
Would you believe me if I told you that
I've only ever spread the truth and fact
Say sorry then when you find out
Your reliable source, an unreliable mouth
