Pour the wine
Console the tears
Make your memory
Drift away from here
But the wine conjures you
Now you're stood
In front of me
Your eyes are shining pools
Mesmerised I gaze at you
Your hand reaches out
And my pining heart gives in to you

If I still love you
If I still love you
I still love you
Should we be together tonight?

On that night starry night
These are times we cannot hide
Looking at the black, stony sky
My heart opened like the heavens
And it rained all night

If I still love you
If I still love you
I still love you
Should we be together tonight?
