Two highways lay before me, which one will I choose Down one lane I find happiness and down the other I will lose
There is no one that I can trust, I must decide alone
My decision is an awful one, which road will take me home (chorus)
In the mornin would I wake to find, down the wrong road I have gone Will I hear the melody Ive searched for oh so long Only time will tell if I have made a losers choice
And though sadness rides my inner soul, my lovers
homes my road
Perils, there are many, as I set out on my way
If I lose your love I know that I can call it back someday Rambler, lonely rambler, just cause anyplace is home Nashville, lights of you always shine Wishing now that you had found a word or two to say But the mornin came and we both knew my eyes they veer away
As I kissed your cheeks and said goodbye I thought only time will tell
And you cant draw, water from an empty well
And though sadness rides my inner soul, my lovers
homes my road
