Kids with flute-like voices
I wish that some of them were dead
But they will turn quiet
In time something will shut their mouths

But death to those who spend happy days bored
No, death to those who pray on a sunny day

No, I don't blame you for anything I just can't stand the fact that that you don't see how this perfect world could let anyone down

No, death to those who
spend happy days bored
No, death to those who
pray on a sunny day

Oh, and I'm so bitter now
You ask me about my dreams
And I just tell you about my troubles
Oh, and I'm so bitter now
You ask me about my needs
And I say "I don't long for anything except for a life"

I laugh at myself, then I cry
I laugh at many others too
But will my self-pity take me anywhere but home again?

No death to those who
spend happy days bored
No death to those who
pray on a sunny day

You ask me about my dreams
And I just tell you about my troubles

And I say "I don't long for anything
except for a life"

Death to those who pray on a sunny day
Death to those who spend happy days bored
But it's just what you can expect from people whose minds are already wrecked
