Underneath my bed there's a raincoat
Packed with scarfs and books Just go look
But don't let the storm slow you down
No honey, don't let the storm slow us down
The sound the furnish makes irritates you
I promise by next spring we'll replace it
But dont let the wind run you out
No honey, dont let the wind run us down
It'll run us down
I want it to get better I swear
I'll work to make it better
So please don't leave quite yet
Please don't leave quite yet
Please don't leave quite yet
Don't Leave Don't Leave
