[Ice Cube]

Yo Jinx man, we gotta find somebody that's down for hers, man

All these girls simple man, who you think fit the category?

[Yo-Yo]

It's me, the brand new intelligent black woman Y-O-Y-O
Which is Yo-Yo, but I'm not to be played
Like I was made by matell
But this Yo-Yo is made by woman and male
I rhyme about uprights upliftin the woman
For that are superior to handle by any male
Any time, any rhyme, any flow, and any show
And if you ask my producers that we fly and you know

[Chorus x2: Ice Cube]

You can't play with my Yo-Yo
"Don't try to play me out, don't try to play me out"

[Verse 1]

My name is Yo-Yo, I'm not a ho
I like to flow so swift, it's got to be a gift
So yo, let the beat lift, as I rip and rhyme
And rap and slap all the girls who came to dap
To the fact I get the 8-ball, or the jam
The earrings I wear are called dophins
Check the booty, yo it's kinda soft and
If you touch, you livin in a coffin(word to mother)
I'm in the 90s, your still in the 80s right
I rock the mic, they say I'm not lady like
But I'ma lady, who will pull a stunt though
I kill suckas, and even hit the block
So what you wanna do?
Ya must play it wrong(ay yo)
Cause to me, you simply can't get none
You wetter, then a hotter ho in snow
Tell em Ice Cube,
(Ice Cube)
No, you can't play with my Yo-Yo
Suckas

[Chorus: x2]

[Ice Cube]

What's yo name baby?

[Verse 2]

That's right, my name is Yo-Yo, but know I'm not a dunkin

As I rap, chilly chill bringin the funk and I steal yo man, as if he was a hawk and He'll call me baby, yo, or even pumpkin
I may be buttercup, or even

We had dinner, and know we drinkin Cisco

Hit the slow jams, it's gettin cosy

Your home alone, so now you gettin nosy

Your kinda young, so of course you had to call replace

Hang up in my face, it's a sad case

So who ya man dippin the dollars, what

Yup, for puttin lipstick on his collar

At home, he's gotta listen to ya holla

But he'll slap ya, and sock ya, so why bother?

But if you come knockin at my do'(ay yo)

I'll smoke you, tell em Ice

(Ice Cube)

You can't play wit my Yo-Yo, sucka

[Chorus: x2]

[Ice Cube]

Fool, 1990 and stand sucka free, yeah

Tell em what's up

[Yo-Yo Rhyming Over Females Voice As She Did Earlier
In The Song]

Yo, I hope you realize one day

That ya week is Monday threw Sunday

So listen to my Y-O, heres my bio

And next to me, ha, your not fly yo

Ya lack skills to be a woman that's black

Fake hair in the back, plus green contacts

Yo-Yo, is just tryna to stop ya

Because the world ain't a big soap opera

It only takes one punch to drop ya

And then the I.B.W.C. will come mob ya

But no, I'm not livin like that first

Although I pack, a real small gat in my purse(right, right)

But no, it's not to cause corruptions

Just to fight back on the structions

Just thought you wanna know about the Y-O-Y-O
Yo, should I tell em Ice
(Ice Cube)
They know what time it is

[Chorus: x2]

[Ice Cube]
Yo-Yo, the brand new intelligent black lady
Stompin to the 90s!
For all y'all suckas
Aye Jinx, I knew they couldn't fade it
You Can't play wit my Yo-Yo

[Verse 3]

The simple to a methaphor, make someone to yell on
To keep it at a latest while they're yellin, "more, more!"
I am very versatile, changin my ways to diffrent styles
Knowledge is the key, expense is for my backround
Label me as a woman, and sometimes I feel imperior
Follow me on the hands of time, makes no man superior
Should we jam and take the stand, and disback all the Men who know no more the slang, slang
And thinks wit his ding-a-ling?
I think it's time that we defeat
And stand on our on two feet
If we wanna live wit justice and harmony
How many more rounds must I go
In order to let my people know
Times were hard, things have changed
"Don't try to play me out"

[Female singing]

Ladyyy("don't try to play me out")
Yayyy, yay hey("don't try to play me out")
Yay, yay, yay, yay
