Ours was the best September
Of blue and gold it was
Of aching nights and sleep-all days
I made my way to meet you

By then the air had changed
And you had seen me everywhere
And they sparkled and shined like new
Like you said I used to

Another magic day is lost on you
And all the love falls through your fingers
Another living day is lost and gone on you

One night you took me driving
You colored everyone
In shades that I'd never seen
You said someone had left you

You'd tried your very best
What silver clouded eyes see
Saying stay when leaving me
When I'm all that you need

Another magic day is lost on you
And all the love falls through your fingers
Another living day is lost and gone on you

If you could feel it now
Warmer than magenta skies
My spirits burning just like the blazing cheeks
On the face of a young child and it's wild

Another magic day is lost on you
And all the love falls through your fingers
Another living day is lost on you

Another magic day
What a day another living day
Another living day
What a day another living day

Another living day
What a day another living day
Another living day
What a day another living day
