It's easier to forgive someone for being wrong than for being right, isn't it? And how your angry tears will fall when all your plans don't suit the one you made them for, it comes to this. It's easier forgetting how you got to shore, when every cloud that blows your way is something else to blame it for. Say it like you feel it, you can't say it like you feel it anymore. Say it like I mean it, I can't say it like I mean it anymore. Hold it up to the light it looks like love, it's what the mirror said, you name it so. But you cut your pretty shapes as paper flakes from careful sheets that blow away, not made to keep. What if alteration makes a little liar? Watching paint instead is easier on the eye than watch you hide. Say it like you feel it, you don't say it like you feel it anymore. Say it like I mean i, I can't say it like I mean it anymore, not anymore. TO FADE: There are people who you think you're gonna love forever, oh well you should know better, should know better. Some people only see you as a move they're making, with a better stake in, better stake in. There are people who you think you're gonna love forever, you're gonna stay together, you should know better. Some people don't give you what you give them freely but you found it easy, you got it so completely.
