Dazed, confused, my hearts abused
I wake alone
I see coffee cups and washing up and reality hits home
My head is spinning so fast
Will this hang over pass?
I don't want to be lonely...
You left a world torn apart
But I believe that my heart, Is meant to find someone
Hungry for love and tired of frustration
Thirsty for something else
I'm empty inside and need the sensation
Of falling completely out of my self
Life's a maze, I'm lost today, I'm going no where
And how do you find your destiny?
Is there anybody out there?
Now I'm driving too fast, hear the radio blast
All the worries from my head
I feel like i'm losing control, I'm psyched
I'm ready to go, Yes I'll find someone
Hungry for love and tired of frustration
Thirsty for something else
I'm empty inside and need the sensation
Of falling completely out of my self
Oh nothing could be better
Than Taking all the missing pieces
And make this picture last forever
Yeah Yeah
Hungry for love and tired of frustration
Thirsty for something else
I'm empty inside and need the sensation
Of falling completely out of my self
