Into your car park drive obsolete motors
With petrol consumption at too higher price Sell us through windows at back room board meetings Blindfolded and handcuffed and in single file

On your money mile, we are the faceless, the nameless, the homeless
On your money mile, there in your fortress where you couldn't care less
On your money mile, we are the caseless, the raceless,
the hopeless
On your money mile, you were caught in the crossfire Hauling the flag right down, hauling the flag right down

Send us to battle, send us to the front line Point us at the enemy, lest we forget It's for our protection that we lay here slaughtered It's for our survival we bury our dead
On your money mile, we are the faceless, the
nameless, the homeless
couldn't care less
On your money mile, we are the caseless, the raceless,
the hopeless
On your money mile, you were caught in the crossfire
Hauling the flag right down, hauling the flag right
down

On your money mile
On your money mile
On your money mile
On your money mile

On your money mile
On your money
