"Drop Me Off"

In a sleep i see a scene a sea of comfort and serene weÂ're walking through some fields of glass up to our waist into our past watch the road girl you are driving youÂ'll probably kill us both or drop me off there at the corner itÂ's better if we donÂ't but you are the fortunate one in this song you are the fortunate one so wake up, wake up we should make a holiday cause we probably seen it all and if my name is dead weight itÂ's been carried on too far up came the windy night donÂ't ask me about the cold ones cause i was saving up my stares and bouncing them off no one so turn your head girl you are driving

you are the fortunate one in this song
you are the fortunate one in this song you are the fortunate one so wake up or leave
