"Divine Intervention"

You don't need divine intervention for all the things
that you never can face,
You don't need good intentions cause in the end it is all
just a waste,
We all need an endless vacation from all the problems
the world can provide,
Just need reconciliation to repair what is wrong in your
live,
I can't face the day, don't wanna try, I wanna waste away till I'm lost, Save me from all the chaos, I'll radiate till I'm gone so wait,
Wait, so many things that you'll never break away, Wait, wait, save your answers, there's nothing when you're gone from here
It's only another day wasted that's replayed in the back of your mind, Snapshot, you suffocated among the shadows and little white lies,
You don't need a crude benediction, a pale savior you can sacrifice,
You just need a new definition when you're feelin'
alone in the night,
You can't face the day, don't wanna try, I wanna waste
away till I'm lost,
Save me from all the chaos, I'll radiate till I'm gone so wait, wait,
So many things that you'll never break away,
Wait, wait, save your answers, there's nothing when
you're gone from here

You don't need divine intervention for all the things
that you never can face,
You don't need good intentions cause in the end it is all
just a waste,
We all need an endless vacation from all the problems
the world can provide,
Just need reconciliation to repair what is wrong in your
live,
To repair what is wrong in your live, I can't wait,
Wait, so many things that you'll never break away,
Wait, wait, so many things that you never get a say,

Wait, wait, so many things that you'll never break away, Wait, wait, save your answers, there's nothing when
you're gone from here
You're gone from here [x3]
