with so much bullshit what can you believe so many lives all divided by greed no way to stop no way to erase what we all cannot face sometimes the thunder it slowly creeps in makes us all wonder where did it begin no way to stop it only it will grow to what we will never know i just can't believe no way to stop it if no one can see we gotta take control or we will never know say what you wanna say there's no tomorrow if we don't start today we gotta take control or we will never know it's on your tv all over the news what does it matter it's not happening to you no you can't stop it can't wish it way and it happens more everyday when will we stand up when will be heard they go on screaming no one hears a word no way to stop only it will grow til what we will never know
