"Something To Change"

Another boring day just fades away a cycle that's never gonna change
Another casualty of humanity awash in my own stupidity There's no reason why a cyborg that's waiting around to die
It's like I don't want to try

Some way to get away from you Got nothing left to prove I got no excuse a wasteoid with nothing left to lose I'm waiting for my own salvation I got to get out - there's no time to waste Something to break - Some way to get away Cause I need something to change I know there's gotta be some place for me where I can escape this misery
A never-ending game - always the same - forever spent waiting for the day
The more and more I try it just seems that I get further from what I want in life

There's nothing I can do I got no excuse a reject who hasn't got a clue
I'm waiting for my own salvation I got to get out - there's not time to waste
