I believe in all the visions that you've made up in your mind
I believe in the point of here and now you read these lines

Got a word to say; Just save the day
In the game you take your part
The evil game lives forever more
While every player shall die

Don't hide and fear the dark
Don't go astray for light
Just take your time tonight
This too will pass

Fly away on the wings of moments that you're breathing out
Fly away, don't rely on the world it's turning round and round
It's the way we choose and got nothing to lose
In the game we call "our lives"
All that appears will turn to dust
Like every soul shall rise

Don't hide and fear the dark
Don't go astray for light
Just take your time tonight
This too will pass
