I got started this morning
Barely up, filled my cup while I'm yawning
Turn on my TV, bad news here to greet me
They got a new list of warnings

It's a slow day I prefer
And sitting under perfect weather
I'm traveling through, God knows I'll skip the preview
And waiting is time wasted forever

And I've gotta keep moving on
Leaving this border town
Don't know where but it won't be here
I won't be around

I'm tired of this scene
It's just the same different name routine
While I'm still able, throw my cards on your table
To show you there's no in between

And I've gotta keep moving on
Leaving this border town
Don't know where, but it won't be here
I won't be around

I'm growing older in this repetition
Not knowing everything that I'm missing
I really have to go
I really need to know

And I've gotta keep moving on
Leaving this border town
Don't know where, but it won't be here
I won't be around

In this border town
In this border town
