Another funeral day
Another evil smile
I fear for human progress
And dream of the fall of immortal angels

Your selfishness is imposed
On the principles of existence

Creatures with no shadow are born
Vague memories of a sedentary life
They're all that's left for humanity
Sacrifices feeding desires

Your selfishness is imposed
On the principles of existence

The machine is turning against
You one more time
At this point we reveal ourselves
The voice of the humiliated
And offended ones
Interpreters of all those condemned
By the social order to live in exile
