You

The one who thought he could do without me

Live without me too

Like some sort of dime store novel

Already flipped through

And I never thought

You'd move so quickly through the line

I wanted what was yours

But you didn't want mine

After all the time gone by

After all

The decision wasn't mine

And even though

My friends don't approve

I'm still talking to you

You weren't exactly ready

But I fell for you

We lived in different cities

And that suited you

Sometimes I felt more distant

When you came to stay

Than affection I imagined every day

After all the time gone by

After all

The decision wasn't mine

And even though

My friends don't approve

I'm still talking to you

The September air contracts

And it expands

Up in Union Square

Young couples holding hands

Sometimes I miss you so

These days I miss you so

After all the time gone by

After all
The decision wasn't mine
And even though
My friends don't approve
I'm still talking to you

I'm still talking to you

I'm still talking to you
