Eyes will drift to the sky

In time

While arms keep holding tight

There's a party in full force

Still the guests

Can't help but watch the door

Expressing your uncertainties

Through years of anniversaries

Then five years down the line

You say, "She was never my type"

Lovers are strangers

There's nothing to discuss

Hearts will be faithful

While the truth is told to someone else (x2)

When you look off

Tell me who you really love (x2)

Fall comes by surprise

Looking into strange eyes

Like school kids who are not friends

In the streets they are oonnected

Huddling in the dark

The only number you call

Magic moments are not lost

They'll outlive all your doubts

Lovers are strangers

There's nothing to discuss

Hearts will be faithful

While the truth is told to someone else (x2)

When you look off

Tell me who you really love (x5)
