"Damn The River"

Damn the river, it's wild ways
Took my love and it ran away and I
I followed through this thought for days
But I never found a thing

But you, you will find me here
Resting my head
And sleeping in a river bed

Damn the river I'm givin' up
'Cause I've had it up to here with all this noise
And all you fucking boys playing with your toys
Get so loud that I just gotta leave the room

But you, you will find me here
Resting my head
And sleeping in a river bed

And you, you will find me here
Resting my head
And sleeping in a river bed

And the static clatter
Of the anti-matter
The pitter patter of your mind
I lie awake
Trying to take
It all in
