I guess you feel hurt, well I'm feeling hurt too
Feel free to blame me, if you don't already do
But I want you to know that I'd change if I could
I wanna make sure that that's well understood

The night, a journey through dark towards light
Despite your glowing eyes this is night
And all is calm, we're safe, we're warm
The night

I guess you feel lost well I'm feeling lost too
Feel free to hate me if you don't already do
But I want you to know that I've always been true
If you promise to help me then I will help you through

The night, this journey through dark towards light
Despite your glowing eyes this is night
All is calm, all is calm

The night
Let's make sure that we'll do what's right
The night
This journey through black towards white
And all is calm, we're safe, we're warm
The night
