I donâ€™t want to spend the rest of my life
Starin' at a man, looking down a line
Whatâ€™s he say? Not my style
Just a stylized version of an obsolete file

I donâ€™t want to spend the rest of my time
Lookin' for the words Iâ€™m never going to find
You read them in a book and apply them to your life
But how can I be as pretty as she writes?
I know Iâ€™m all right

Because the needle canâ€™t burn
What the needle canâ€™t find

She donâ€™t want to spend the rest of her heart
Waste it on a job and never get a start
Part of her says she should be herself
And part of her says she should be with someone else

I donâ€™t want to spend the rest of my life
Looking for a girl Iâ€™m never gonna find
Starin' back at me when I come home at night
But how can she be as pretty as I write?
It will be hard, but I know Iâ€™m all right

Because the needle canâ€™t burn
What the needle canâ€™t find
And the money wonâ€™t save
What the money canâ€™t buy

And part of me is safe
And part of me is lies
So be mine tonight
