I imagine long walks down the road
Things began to bloom, the sky explodes
The Damage is undone Then I know this has got to be a dream
Machines and Luxuries don't last
I took my sleep for granted in the past
And I woke up half-dead in the hourglass
Why does that sound funny?

Chorus

Wait, you're almost there it's gone.
Your almost there, it's gone
Your almost where what follows you does not bother you

I have walked the tightrope parts of me
I towed the line just far enough to see.
Never found a gift I got for free
You pay for them dearly.
I see my forever as one long night.
If I can make it dark then I can make it light.
I know that most of living done is done in the mind.
Only thought survives.

Repeat Chorus

Are you tired?
Are you uninspired?
Has the miscommunication tried to eat you up inside.
And I am here As you are here
And everything I want to know Sleeps between your ears

Repeat Chorus 2x
