"Where The Angels Fly"

I'd like to know the secrets of your heart
I look into your eyes and that's a start...
Watch over you, all the moments that you are away
It's here we'll meet between the earth and sky
Where the angels fly...

You'd like to know the secrets of my heart
Just look into my eyes and that's a start...
You open me to the all the colors of the night and day

It's here we'll dance between the earth and sky
Where the angels fly...

I'd like to know the secrets of my heart
I journey deep inside and that's a start...
The mystery and miracle of love that lights the way
It's here we'll dance between the earth and sky
A place where every one sees eye to eye
Where the angels fly...
