(You've Been Whispering Again)
Why does it have to have a name?
Why does it have to have a name?
It's you and I, you and I
Love walks a long and lonely road
Sticks to the breeze and what it knows
It's you and I, you and I
Friend, you've been whispering again
Friend, you've been whispering again
Wildflowers grow and call your name
Under the moon it stays the same
It's you and I, you and I
Jump through the fields and kiss the sky
Asking the Gods Forgiveness - why?
It's you and I, you and I
Friend, you've been whispering again
Friend, you've been whispering again
