A hatchet, a hammer, a bucket of nails
An? all the wood I can find
I?ll build me a cabin on top of the hill
Got all the plans in my mind . . .
Where the tree tops talk to the wind
Where the eagle flies
I?ll bring her to see it the minute I?m through Won?t she light up with surprise!
A hatchet, a hammer, a bucket of nails
An? just my two hands, but with some help from above
The walls will start risin?, the roof will go on
The final touch will be love . . .
Where the tree tops talk to the wind
Where the eagle flies
The preacher will bless us as we hurry to
Our happy home in the skies . . .
As soon as we?re married,
We?re movin? in to
Our happy home in the skies . . .
(a hatchet, a hammer, a bucket of nails . . .)
Our happy home in the skies . . .
