I'm finding it hard to comprehend It's getting far to close to the end Your means are understandable I'm seeing it clearly now

Constant fear now, can you hear me? I'm calling your name Separation can you feel me now? Sense you near me, do you believe? I'm feeling the same

Reawaken, I'm alive inside of you

I realise that this is true It's all descending away from you Assuming all that's left is gone And we're no longer left behind

In life we each shall fall The worst will be undone Anticipate it all We will over come
