Forgive my tongue
I know I spoke in unkind words
To you before

I never see the problems
Just how the two sides solve them
Tell me how did it get this way

And it's not logical
It makes no sense to me
How a love so strong
Could leave so easily

And though they never raise their voices
You don't need to hear anything
When you can see that

There's a highway
That runs north and south
Through this house
Never colliding at all
Lead intertwining on me
Excess can reach us
Fix this or help me
Find my own way out
Find my own way out
Find my own way out

Is this all my fault
Was it something I did
Can you please tell me
When this all will end
'Cause I don't want to leave
Give up all we have
Don't let differences
Lead to different paths

And I know this house
Is filled with discontent
But we can overcome
Find ways to circumvent

There's a highway
That runs north and south
Through this house
Never colliding at all
Lead intertwining on me
Excess can reach us
Fix this or help me
Find my own way out

Help me find my own way out
Help me find my own way out

There's a highway
That runs north and south
Through this house
Never colliding at all
Lead intertwining on me
Excess can reach us
Fix this or help me

Fix this or help me
