One drop of poison every day is what you use
Youâ€™ve got me craving something you have
I get well on you
Each night Iâ€™m dying, so sick and blue
The antidote it lies in, your kiss so cruel

Who would suspect an angel like you?
Theyâ€™d never guess
Youâ€™re feeding me that old devils food
I like it best
When I am higher, out of control
Iâ€™ll eat your fire, and pay with my soul

One drop of poison every day
Makes me so sick Iâ€™d never stray
Oh but I would follow anywhere you go
But donâ€™t tell me this is love, oh say it ainâ€™t so

Because love is the root of evil
And love is the way they string you out
Stabbing my heart with a needle
Spilling my junkie blood on the ground

Each morning when I wake up to you
I could just die
Every small dose from your loving spoon
Tastes like a lie

And I know the terrible thing you do
But I donâ€™t mind
Bad medicine is a little like truth
And I like mine

One drop of poison every day
Makes me so sick Iâ€™d never stray
I would follow anywhere you go
But donâ€™t tell me this is love, oh say it ainâ€™t so
