Give me one good reason why I should be going home if I really wanted to leave I would already be gone it's a different situation that we're looking at it's a brand new situation and we can't go back

Maybe it was overdone but we're still around even when we aimed to fail we just tried again and passed

I remember silly things we said we shared I remember things you told me 'bout your mom and dad
it's a different situation that we're looking at

passed
