You say that I've strayed from the road I walked as a child

You say that my youth and my heart haven't chosen what's right

Don't tell me I'm aimless

Cause I ain't gonna fight

You bury your faith in the book you clutch in the dark
You keep praying I'll hear every word and it tears you apart

Don't tell me I'm faithless

Cause I ain't gonna fight

We both know a place

Where we know who we are

Don't rest your weight on me now

You're not gonna change me by putting me down

My faith lies deep in the ground

If Jesus exists he don't live in the pages we write

He'd say put down your books and come follow me out in the light

Don't tell me I'm crazy

Cause I ain't gonna fight

We both want to hold on

To what peace we can find

Don't rest your weight on me now

You're not gonna change me by putting me down

My faith lies deep in the ground

My faith lies deep in the ground
