

City In The Sea "Unfound"

Visit "Unfound" on MotoLyrics.com

Hold your words for when you must use them.
Choose a side before it can choose you or obey the rules of humanity and diminish with your indiscretion.
Greatness and pride is one step below the rest.
Boast yourself until there's no breaths left and there's
no room left to give.
Boast yourself until there's no breaths left and there's
no room left to give.
So was it worth it? To build your life up to nothing.
Was it worth it to build your life up to nothing?
To reach the highest peak for the greatest fall.
Your accomplishments, your enslavement of virtue built by the greed of man and machine.
And as they walk.
And as they walk hand in hand down an aisle of fire,
the flames grow higher as all the life that we know expires.
Was it worth it to build your life up to nothing?
To reach the highest peak for the greatest fall

Now all I know is wearing thin and I need something so much more, so I can finally find my way back home.
Now all I know is wearing thin and I need something so much more, so I can finally find my way back home.

Visit City In The Sea page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.