Let's go! Our reality comes knocking, here we go again Down this hole you've dug for us. Scars from the faded Memories bleed out again. We will escape these notions

And your lack of faith. Persist through the feeble. We'll Destroy these barriers built all around us. Burn them Down! Try to kill the force but it carries on. Awaken the Death from within. You see now your nightmares will bury

You. We are the nightmares that come for you! Finding

Weakness is a lesson learned. Now this force can't be Stopped, the last piece of the puzzle now fits in place.

So what's next? What do you expect us to fail? Now we cut

The throats of our enemies and paint the world with their

Blood. Never been more ready to face the winds and fires.

Let them see our persistence! Create the standard we've

Worked and make clear the path we lay! These bloody hands

Prove that we're here to fucking stay! Let the rest lay Gutted when we seize the day!
