I know it isn't so easy from where you are I wanna shine like a beacon right through the dark

I'll light a light tonight to make it brighter for you I'll light a light tonight hoping it might guide you through

You're feeling lost and lonely so far from home
I wish my arms were your shelter you'd be safe and warm.

I'll light a light tonight to make it brighter for you
I'll light a light tonight hoping it might guide you through

It's just a simple flame to keep my fears away until I see you again

I'll light a light tonight to make it brighter for you
I'll light a light tonight hoping it might guide you through
