I am the mind that bends inside this girl's body
I'd use both hands to push you back if you were me
My eyes are holes they have one trickle that just pours out
Well you know nothing about me
And how would you ever find out?

What are you gonna do when you can't have everything
you want?

I let the ground hold me
I'll fall on drunk and back
I recognize this mark, the first I've ever had Oh these eyes are screws
They hold down tears that would just pour out
Still I feel nothing inside me
But how would you ever know that?'

What are you gonna do when you can't have everything
you want?
What you gonna do when you can't have everything?

I can't help it
I can't help it
I can't help it
I can't help it
