I'm going to count all your worries
I'm going to sit on a hill
Look into the distance
To see if they're still
I'm going to look all around you
Till I hear your sad tune
And then send it up
On some hot air balloon

Cause if only you wouldn't be so scared
You could go so far
Cause you're so much stronger than you think you are

I want to find you an answer
I'm going to shed a little light
On why something is missing
And never quite right
I'm going to lie down beside you
I want to dry all your tears
Yeah, I'm going to rationalize all of your fears

Cause if only you wouldn't be so scared
You could go so far
Cause you're so much stronger than you think you are

Cause if only you wouldn't be so scared
You could go so far
Cause you're so much stronger than you think you are
Cause you're so much stronger than you think you are
