I know, I know I can't complain And it doesn't help when you've only got yourself to blame
I don't know what got into me
But I don't expect that I'll get any sympathy

I hate it that I got what I wanted cause I don't want it anymore
And I hate to say you told, but you told me once before 2x

You know it's never quite enough and I don't know what it was that I was thinking of You know, no matter what I try It just doesn't ever really seem to satisfy chorus

I hate that I got what I wanted cause I don't want it
anymore
And I hate to say you told me but you told me once before
2x

You told me once before
You told me once before
You told me once before
