It is something that burns you inside
You are unable to talk to someone
Sometimes you wish to die
But you find always something to fight for.

There's an endless war inside you
And for this it's something lethal
Because of going on...
One of the two has to die.

I'm not afraid of dying
It's the sufferance I can't stand
And I've already known it
Only for my fault.

For luck or for pride
I was able to beat you
But there still remains
The shadow of a doubt
To meet you at my awaking.

She has been the change
The one who let me win
This unreal complex
After, after a bad dream.

New she is with me
My life and my brain
She can save me from the doubts
And can make me change my mind.

Maybe for her eyes
Or maybe for her face
I don't know the reason
But now with her I live.
