"God Or Beggar"

Welcome among us lonely adventurer where are you going so, where are you going so insecure? the snare of defeat is near i have been your friend forever come with me I know the road i am the king of side roads i will make you win, i will make you win all wars you only have to listen to me and venerate me because I will be your god once I was a man just like you now I am to spread my doctrine now I've arisen to god

I'd like to know how to tell things to be told I'd like to know how to do things to be done I'd like to know how to love the healthy love I'd like to know how to love the healthy hate I'd like to know how to live my life I'd like to know how to live until death comes

Close your eyes you will see yourself like you really are open your soul and listen to yourself you will find out things you know now that you're free you will be strong in front of manhood and you'll fight battles without swords because everyone will tell from your eyes that you are one of my chosen and that will last and stay forever

God or beggar should be not even now I feel different from myself I doubt your kindness Your doctrine and what you ask in reward Is all I have left
